

Lesley Watt

Consultant & Facilitator

Wan Chai, Hong Kong

With more than twenty years' experience as a professional trainer, coach and consultant specializing in management and personal development, Lesley's clients include companies in retail, banking, manufacturing, telecommunication, health care and government departments. She spent nine years with MDCHK as management adviser completing a number of management development projects. One of them was collaboration with TRACOM Group to introduce the Social Style Model to Managers in Hong Kong and she has trained over 1,000 managers using Social Style Model through workshops and presentations.

Lesley has also collaborated with Corporate Coach U International (CCUI) in bringing the premier Coaching Programme to Hong Kong and introduced coaching as a key leadership competency to local managers.

As a senior consultant with HKPC, Lesley was responsible for implementing the National Vocational Qualifications (NVQ) in management. The project was a partnership with the University of Oxford Delegacy of Local Examinations. Her role was to design and develop the Enriching Management-at-Work Training Series to support the Oxford Management Award Programme. The series consists of 5 areas – Management Operations, People, Information, Finance and Personal Effectiveness – with a total of 26 courses, consulting services and workshop facilitation to local churches/community agencies.
