

AMY VAN COURT

Facilitator & Coach

Denver, CO

Amy is a certified career coach, author, and speaker who has been helping women find themselves in meaningful work since 2008. Her no-nonsense style, spiritual insights, and business acumen have guided hundreds of women to connect deeply with their own personal truths in order to empower themselves and attain career success on their terms.

Her clients include one of the highest-ranking female Admirals in the US Navy, a former US Congresswoman, a sitting court judge, and numerous C-level executives and entrepreneurs.

Prior to founding Amy Van Court, Inc., she held executive and managerial positions in national companies such as U.S. News and World Report magazine, Fast Company magazine, Bankrate.com, and VCA Animal Hospitals.

Her book "Escaping Career Prison" is an Amazon best-seller available in Kindle and paperback formats world-wide.

Amy lives in Westminster, Colorado, a suburb of Denver. She is an avid horsewoman, a meditator, loves sailing and all things ocean, and is the owner of a Saleen Mustang muscle car.

Boundless.
